State Property Tax Rankings

Property tax comparisons between states are not easy to make. The Wallet Hub website has posted one of the best reports that I have seen.

The Wallet Hub site ranks states with the lowest ranking being the lowest property tax. Interestingly Hawaii is ranked #1, lowest property tax of all the States. According to their findings Ohio ranks 40th on the list (again with 51st being the state with the highest property tax). Among neighboring states Michigan is 44th, Pennsylvania is 39th, Indiana is 23rd, Kentucky is 18th and West Virginia is 7th. One of the leading tax and public policy experts on Wallet Hub's panel is Bree J. Lang, Assistant Professor of Economics at Xavier University's Williams College of Business.
